IN FRAUD CASE

Holders of Alleged Bogus Titles to Homesteads, Brought Into Court.

THE OBJECT OF THE CONSPIRATORS

They Sought To Acquire Script Rights to Various Pieces of Property--Made False Entries.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 29.—A new phase in the land fraud trial developed when the name of George A. Howe, to whom, it is said, were deeded seven of the alleged bogus homestead titles, was brought into the case. Further documentary evidence brought to light that Howe had in turn deeded to Horace G. McKinley a tract of land in section 15 south, range 1 east.

District Attorney Hall announced to the court that the government would prove that Howe is in reality one of the conspirators under another name. The government announced that it would prove the object of the alleged conspirators in locating in 11-7 was not to acquire those lands permanently, but merely to give them script rights that they might exchange script for land to which they desired to acquire title.

Alleged False Reports.
When court opened Monday the government recalled George R. Ogden, a clerk in the general land office, who identified the report submitted by C. E. Loomis, with reference to the homestead of Thomas Wilkins. Asked what was done after the report of Loomis had been received, Mr. Ogden said that Forest Superintendent S. B. Ormsby was detailed by instructions to make another investigation. An objection was raised to the evidence in the particular and Special Prosecutor Henry Sprang another surprise with reference to the falsity of reports submitted by special agents of the government. Said Mr. Henry: "We propose to show also that S. B. Ormsby became a conspirator in these cases and that he was procured by the defendants to transmit a false report."

The objection was overruled and the witness identified the report as having been received from Ormsby.

Reports Describe Improvements.
Mr. Henry read Ormsby's report regarding the Emma Porter claim. It was an echo of that transmitted by Loomis. It told about the house made of logs, 14x16 feet, with a log woodshed, 8x10 feet. Told how four acres of land had been cleared, sowed to grass and fenced, all of the value of $200.

Then came the reading of the report in regard to Frank Wolgamott, detailing how he had erected a house, 18x20 feet, with a woodshed; how he cleared five acres of land and beautified the premises with a small garden. The evidence then reverted to the letter written by United States Senator Mitchell and accompanying some affidavits of Puter and Mrs. Watson to the general land office. Mr. Ogden identified these. Cross-examination developed no new features and the witness was dismissed.

AN UPEHAVAL IS SURE TO COME

Sentiment at the University Favors Sweeping Changes in Athletic Department.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-METLAE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—A violent upheaval in things athletic is in progress at the University of Wisconsin. The Daily Cardinal, the official paper of the university, which is under faculty supervision and practically under faculty censorship, goes into the details of the trouble that caused the disasters to the cardinal team in the football season just closed. A bitter personal attack is made upon Assistant Coach Cochems. It is declared that the failure of Head Coach Curtis was due largely to the fact that the assistant coach and other subordinates tried to project themselves to the chief place, and that they stimulated the most intolerable dissensions whenever Curtis tried to insist upon any course of action. It is declared that if the mention of Cochems as a candidate for the coachship persists further details of the last season will be published, such as are now thought to be disgraceful to the institution to print, unless necessary to kill off the candidacy of Cochems. It is declared that players who have been attracted to Madison have been given "graft jobs" in the state capitol, doing little work and drawing good pay, and that such players are the most rebellious and dangerous in the training of the teams. The abolition of the graduate coaching system is not demanded, but the abandonment of the professional-graduate system is demanded in plain language. A graduate manager in place of C. H. Kilpatrick is demanded who shall be a business man and not a "good fellow and a mediocre coach of a track team." A direct demand is made for "plain honesty."

E. J. Vanderboom, president of the student athletic association and star halfback of the football team, offers a long communication, suggesting various changes of the Wisconsin system.

Pays Heavy Fine to Uncle Sam for Making and Using Bogus Cancellation Stamp on Letter.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 29.—James H. Parkhurst of Parkhurst Brothers & Co., a well-known manufacturer of this city, was fined $200 and costs in the United States court for using the mails with intent to defraud. Parkhurst has some racing stock and one of his horses was entered in the Gar Bolt racing circuit for the season. One of the rules requires notice of withdrawal a certain time before the season opens under penalty of making the owner pay all entry fees whether his horse is in the races or not. Parkhurst concluded not to race his horse this season, but neglected to give the notice. When his attention was called to the matter he caused a rubber cancelling stamp similar to that used by the government to be made and then wrote a letter, which he dated in correspond to the date of the bogus stamp. When the secretary of the association received notice of withdrawal and saw that the letter and postmark corresponded he inquired into the cause of the delay of the letter and the government officials detected the bogus nature of the stamp.

GARFIELD TO RESUME
BEEF TRUST INQUIRY

Commissioner of the Bureau of Corporations Is to Complete Investigations Begun Last Spring.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Commissioner James R. Garfield of the bureau of corporations is expected to go to Chicago soon to complete the beef trust investigations begun last spring under a resolution of congress by calling before him the leading packers to answer questions which he may propound, based on the evidence collected by the special agents of the bureau during the last few months. Commissioner Garfield is now out of the city on a hunting trip, but it is said on good authority that the leading lawyers of the government are of the opinion that the commissioner has a legal right to compel the testimony of trust magnates and that upon his arrival in Chicago he will immediately subpoena the big packers to appear before him and to bring their books and paper if necessary in order to answer the questions he may put to them.

In scope the inquiry will be broad, for Commissioner Garfield has at his hand statistics from the data gathered by his special agents which cover cost of cattle on the ranges, freight rates, stock yards charges and cost of manufacturing the cattle into beef products for the market.

FEAR ROBBERY AND MURDER

Disappearance of Wealthy Indiana Farmer Proves Deep Mystery.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 29.—Another murder is believed to have been added to the long list of sensational crimes which have been committed in Blackford county within the past two months by the disappearance of Daniel C. Dowitt, a wealthy farmer and speculator in oil lands. Dowitt left the house in his work clothes Thanksgiving night, saying he was going to the barn. Since then nothing has been seen of him. Search for him failed to secure any clue to his whereabouts. The case is one of much mystery and has alarmed the community. Dowitt had $50 in his pocket when he left the house, and it is thought he was killed after being robbed.

INDIANA WHEAT CROP SMALLER

Statistics Show That Staple Is Losing Its Hold in State.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 29.—State Statistician Johnson says: "It is considered by those interested that wheat can no longer be raised in Indiana at a profit. In 1904 the average yield was a small fraction more than ten bushels to the acre. Producing one and one-half bushels for seed the net crop was but eight and one-half bushels to the acre, to pay for sowing, harvesting, threshing and marketing, to say nothing of the interest on the value of the land. It may be expected that under these circumstances the wheat acreage will decrease from year to year."

GOV. PEABODY TO QUIT PLACE

Republican Executive Will Surrender Office to His Democratic Successor.

GAME IS NOT WORTH THE POWDER

Still Believes He Was Defeated by Fraudulent Means But Does Not Consider It Good Policy To Contest.

[Special by Scripps-Metlae.]

Denver, Col., Nov. 29.—The latest sensation in the election contest is the withdrawal of Governor Peabody. It is not an official concession that Alva Adams, Democrat, was elected and such a statement will not probably be made, but the news is given out by close friends of the governor.

This confirmation of rumors that have circulated in club circles is considered as final.

Peabody is telling all those closely connected with him in business that he expects to be at home in his bank at Canon City on Jan. 2.

Will Not Make Contest.

Talking to an old friend he said: "I am not making any contest for the governorship. The Republican party is going ahead to punish Democratic crooks in Denver, and in the contests now before the supreme court we will undoubtedly gain enough seats to give us control of the state senate. I am doing all I can to help carry out this program, but will make no further contest personally."

"It would be a long siege if undertaken and is really not worth the trouble. Although I am satisfied I was defeated by monumental fraud and treachery of politicians in many counties, I expect to be home on Jan. 2 to stay."

Republican Woman Arrested.
Mrs. Rose Snyder, a Republican election official, has been arrested on a federal court warrant charging the use of money to buy votes at the recent election.

cent election. One was returned on $6,000 bonds and declares it is a trumped up case by Democratic election crooks against whom she testified in the state supreme court.

The supreme court has under advisement an offer of John Doud, made through the Republican prosecuting attorney, that if he is afforded protection he will testify to having voted repeatedly the straight Democratic ticket by agreement with ward politicians.

It is announced that Governor Peabody will appoint the two additional justices of the supreme court. Under the constitutional amendment adopted at the recent election the court of appeals and supreme court consolidated on April 5 next and two of the seven judges provided for are to be named by the governor.

Democrats May Get Senate.
Governor Peabody will make the appointment and the senate, if Republican, will confirm them. Should the Democrats control the senate Governor Peabody's appointments will be rejected and Governor Adams will appoint the two judges. The canvass of the votes in Denver and Pueblo counties has not yet been completed, but from the unofficial returns it appears that the Democrats will control the senate by a majority of two or three, unless the state canvassing board throws out two or more of the Democrats, who are apparently elected, as planned by the Republicans, who are preparing charges of fraud and seats the Republican candidates.

BLAME WOMAN FOR THE WRECK OF OBERLIN BANK

Immense Loans Were Made to Very Mysterious Woman with a Mysterious Fortune.

[Special by Scripps-Metlae.]

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 29.—The failure of the Citizens' National bank at Oberlin, Ohio, to open its doors Monday is blamed to heavy loans made in Mrs. Cassie Chadwick at Cleveland.

Following the alleged revelation, Herbert B. Newton, the Brookline (Mass.) capitalist who recently sued the woman for over $100,000 loaned her on notes, filed a motion in the common pleas court asking for the appointment of a receiver of the alleged securities belonging to her that are said to be in custody of Iri Reynolds at the Wade Park bank.

Woman Is Subpoenaed.

The court issued subpoenas for both Mrs. Chadwick and Iri Reynolds, secretary and treasurer of the Wade Park Banking company. Reynolds is ordered to bring into court all certificates and securities he may hold belonging to Mrs. Chadwick.

Mrs. Chadwick is commanded to bring into court a full list of all securities she may have, and also any securities themselves that may be in her possession, or if the same are not in her possession, certified copies of them, being the securities alleged to have been shown to Newton.

Mr. Reynolds declared that he did not know whose name was signed to the alleged note for $500,000, payable to Mrs. Chadwick, that no note was not holding any such note among the securities in his possession belonging to Mrs. Chadwick, and that he did not even know of any such note being in existence.

He said he did not believe there was such a note, and said there were no diamonds or other jewels in his possession among the securities he holds for Mrs. Chadwick.

Directors Close Bank.
The Oberlin bank was closed Monday morning as a result of a meeting of the board of directors. The following notice was posted on the bank door:

"This bank will not open this morning or until further notice. The bank is in charge of the national bank examiner for examination and investigation."

A financial statement issued by the bank in September last showed the capital to be $60,000; surplus, $20,000; deposits, $475,000; loans and discounts, $317,000; bonds and real estate, $133,000; due from banks, $126,000; cash on hand, $21,000. C. G. Beckwith is president of the institution, which was founded in 1858.

On Saturday last there was a run on the bank, as a result, it is said, of a rumor that Mrs. Chadwick had borrowed largely from the institution.

MORE MOISTURE IN YOUR HOMES

AND THUS CONSERVE BOTH HEALTH AND FUEL.

SOME TIMELY SUGGESTION

A Vital Matter to Which Very Little Attention Is Paid—Waste of Fuel Consequent.

Does your home contain moisture enough for good health?

The matter is of vital importance, as well as of economic moment. The Chicago health department in its weekly bulletins makes timely suggestions as to the heating of buildings and the proper proportion of moisture that should be supplied to insure the greatest amount of comfort and best conserve the health of those occupying artificially heated houses. The department deprecates the fact that even the best and most recent text-books on hygiene, sanitary science and preventive medicine have little to say, and that of the vaguest and most inconclusive character, on the subject of moisture in the air of artificially heated rooms.

Tests conclusively proved, says the bulletin, that a percentage of moisture above 50, with a temperature of about 65 degrees, yields the greatest comfort and the best conditions for health. With a temperature of 72 or 74 degrees and a relative humidity of 50 per cent, as compared with a room at 65 or 68 degrees and a relative humidity of about 60 per cent, the latter seemed the warmer and more comfortable.

Add to this the fact, pointed out by Professor Wilson of Milwaukee, in a paper on Atmospheric Moisture and Artificial Heating, and it will be seen that we are wasting fuel from the unnecessary high temperature we maintain. The waste is probably greater than is generally supposed. Professor Wilson says: "About 25 per cent of the cost of heating is expended in raising the temperature from 60 degrees to 70 degrees, so if we can keep comfortable at a temperature of 65 degrees we shall have saved at least 12 1/2 per cent of the total cost of heating."

Dr. Henry Mitchell Smith of Brooklyn has so repeatedly demonstrated the fact that an indoor temperature of 65 degrees is more healthy and agreeable than a much higher temperature—provided there is sufficient humidity—that he deprecates it should be a cardinal rule that if a room at 65 degrees is not warm enough for any healthy person it is because the relative humidity is too low, and in such case the proper procedure is to raise the relative humidity—not the temperature.

He recommends that every household should have a hygrometer, or moisture indicator, and that water should be evaporated in rooms in sufficient amount of moisture to make the room comfortable at 65 or 68 degrees.

One point emphasized by Dr. Smith is that every time we step out of our houses during the winter season we pass from an atmosphere with a relative humidity of about 30 per cent into one with a relative humidity of 70 per cent. Such a sharp and violent contrast must be productive of harm, particularly to the delicate mucous membranes of the upper air passages.

The remedy is to maintain the indoor humidity at the proper point—between 60 and 70 per cent.

CHAMPIONSHIP TO STAY UNSETTLED

Five Elevens in State Have Clean Record—Eau Claire Probably Best

Janesville was in it at no time this year for the state interscholastic football championship. She has played one of the elevens who are now claiming first place, Darlington High. Fort Atkinson, Janesville's old rival, is also out of it this season, but has done a little better than the locals, in that they have also played one of the claimants, and Thanksgiving day put another out of the race. It is very probable that the championship will remain unsettled this year. Eau Claire, Darlington, Merrill, Lancaster and South Division Milwaukee all have clean score records, and all except the last named are now putting in their claims. Baraboo high school had a clean record up to Thanksgiving day, but it was beaten by Fort Atkinson. Of the elevens mentioned, Eau Claire and South Division Milwaukee, are probably the strongest, and as the latter has disbanded Eau Claire will be the strongest claimant for first honors.

MADE BEET SYRUP BY OTHER METHOD

Nebraska Discovers Way of Making Syrup from Sugar Beets in Factories.

While E. B. J. einstreet of this city has experimented in manufacturing syrup from sugar beets and succeeded in making some in a manner such as any farmer's wife could easily make it, A. J. Krampfer of Dakota City, Nebraska has discovered a method of manufacturing syrup in large quantities in factories. His syrup was made entirely from the juice of the sugar beet according to the process of defecating or purifying saccharine juices and syrups now in use, which is not an expensive operation. "The defecating agent," combined with the impurities of the beet juice and is removed with them in the form of scum during the process of boiling and skimming, also removing the offensive odor and flavor of the sugar beets, thus leaving the syrup pure and wholesome, and, if carefully done, not even the slightest trace of the defecating agent can be found in the syrup. The syrup, which is of an amber hue, is about standard in quality and is as free from the organic impurities as the best sample of cane syrup. Analysis of it leave no doubt that beet syrup as an article of food is within reach, and it remains only for some enterprising capitalist to manufacture it on a large scale and create a national demand for it.

START PETITION OF QUARLES NOW

Senator Seeks Re-election Under the Primary Law—Wastes No Time.

Nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law have been prepared and will be circulated in the interests of United States Senator Joseph V. Quarles of Milwaukee, who is a candidate for re-election. The papers are prepared on the assumption that the primary election law is now in full force, and that the candidate for senator must be nominated at a special primary to be held two weeks before the time of the election of a senator by the legislature in January.

Under the law, the nomination papers must be circulated in at least six counties of the state, but the Quarles papers will be sent through more than this number of counties, the greater part of the state being covered by them.

The form of the nomination paper is as follows: "I, the undersigned, a qualified elector of the county of _____ and state of Wisconsin, and a member of the republican party, hereby nominate Joseph V. Quarles, who resides at 286 Juneau avenue, in the city and county of Milwaukee, state of Wisconsin, as a party candidate, of said party for the office of United States senator, to be voted for at the primary to be held within two weeks before the time fixed by law for the election of such United States senator in the month of January, A. D. 1905, as representing the principles of said party, and I further declare that I intend to support the candidate named herein."

Spaces for the names of twenty-five signers, with their residence and date of signature, are provided on each nomination paper, and at the bottom appears the following affidavit, to be executed by the person circulating the paper:

"I, _____, being first duly sworn, on oath, say he is a qualified elector, and residing within the above named county; that he is acquainted with all the persons who have signed the above and foregoing nomination paper, and that he knows them to be electors of the county named in the caption to said paper; that he knows they signed the same with full knowledge of the contents thereof, and that their respective residences are stated therein, and that each signer signed the same on the date set opposite his name, and that the said affiant intends to support the candidate named therein."

Officials of the state have not yet announced their decision with regard to the applicability of the primary law to the senatorial election, but Mr. Quarles will take no chances of overlooking necessary preliminaries for the approaching contest.

There was a large audience present at the Myers theatre last evening to witness the performance of "The Octoroon" by the Kennedy Stock Co., which is also to appear here Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings. There were in the cast a wicked slave driver with a whip, an Indian chief, an heiress, an auctioneer, numerous slaves and planters, a New England Yankee, a steamboat captain, a southern lover, and the Octoroon about whom the play revolved. Hence there was a plenty of variety—encounters with bowie knives, bloodthirsty hunts in the bayous of the Mississippi, and songs of the cotton pickers. The audience was immensely pleased with the play as well as the illustrated songs, the dancing and singing of Little Dot and the Hebrew character. "Another Man's Wife" will be the bill Thursday evening.

COMSTOCK HAD A SMALL LEAD

ON SIXTEENTH BALLOT FOR CITY MARSHAL.

SALOON LICENSE FOR $300

Was Granted by Council Last Evening—Ordinance to Repeal Dog License Measure.

On the sixteenth formal ballot in the council chamber last evening the vote for city marshal stood thus: J. J. Comstock—1, John Brown—3, William Appleby—2. Each of the four ballottings succeeding the ten minute recess brought forth the same result. The first balloting was informal and resulted as follows: John Brown—3, J. J. Comstock—2, William Appleby—3. Alderman Comstock had asked to be excused from voting. The first two formal ballottings showed the same result as the informal. On the third formal ballot one Appleby vote switched to Comstock and remained with him until the tenth ballot when the vote again stood 3-3-3. On the eleventh ballot one vote for Brown went to T. L. Nelson. On the twelfth it was again 3-3-3. Then came the ten-minute recess which failed to change the vote from what it had been on the third formal ballot. After the sixteenth balloting Alderman Matheson moved that the election be postponed two weeks. Motion carried.

Saloon License for $300. The usual bills were presented and passed upon and the report of the finance committee was adopted. There was received and placed on file a petition, with some forty signers, for an electric light on the Delavan road near the intersection of Vine street, the light being desired to make less dangerous a steep declivity on the road hill. Mayor Hutchinson appointed, as special police without pay: George H. Phillips, George W. Phelps, John Dalton, and M. E. McNair. The city clerk was instructed to draw an order for $135, payable to James Campbell from the fire and water fund, for one room horse to be used by the fire department. On account of a transfer of one fire horse to the police department the treasurer was instructed to transfer $135 from the general fund to the fire and water fund. The application of Van Houten and English for a saloon license for seven months at $300, was granted, bonds being found in due form and sureties good. Alderman Matheson offered an amendment that the amount be fixed at $500 and Alderman Merritt seconded it. The amendment was voted down and the motion as originally offered was passed.

New Bridge Accepted. The city clerk was instructed to draw an order on the city treasurer payable from the bridge fund for $18,755 in payment to the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron Co. for the new Court street structure. This sum is the total less $100 to be withheld until certain further work is completed. City Engineer Kerch stated that the work had been well executed and that the plans had been carried out in detail.

To Repeal Dog License. By an order the city clerk was instructed to purchase one carload of paving brick. Alderman Jackman introduced an ordinance calling for the repeal of the dog license measure, passed June 15, 1901. The street commissioner was instructed to build brick crosswalks on Oakland avenue on the east side of South bluff, on Jefferson avenue on the south side of Raper, on St. Mary's avenue on the south side of Millon avenue.

Mrs. Maria Herman. Word was received in the city Sunday of the death of Mrs. Maria Herman, who passed away at her home in Eau Claire. She was a sister of Mrs. Sillito, a former resident of this city, now dead, and of Mr. Edwin Hooker. She also had a niece here, Miss Mary Wood, from whose residence at 55 Prospect avenue private services will be held tomorrow.

AFFECT OF QUIET WISCONSIN MARKET

Lack of Supply of Leaf from State Makes General Market Slow—Weather Awaited.

There was a day and a half of easing weather last week but this was hardly enough to put the hanging tobacco in a condition such that it could be taken down. The present cold snap promises to be of considerable duration and unless the thermometer rises above the thirty-two degree mark and the air becomes damp and muggy the tobacco will not be eased very early. Little is being done in the Wisconsin market and hence leaf business is not exactly rushing in the general market. The drawback is the lack of proper supply as well as the stiff price at which the stock on hand is held. While manufacturers are becoming cognizant of the fact that a shortage of leaf exists, they are reluctant to recognize also the other fact that a shortage of supply is bound to raise the price of the commodity, too. This incongruous condition is noticeable chiefly in the binder type. Everybody knows that the chief reliance for the supply is on the Wisconsin leaf. And everybody knows also that last year's Wisconsin crop has lost a third of its average yield by a number of defects which ruled it out for its ordinary use. And now it is also becoming known that this year's crop will be by 25 per cent shorter than the average one. Under these circumstances the Wisconsin should sell quickly even at an advanced figure. For the time Wisconsin could be had in any quantity at 12 to 12 1/2 cents is passed, and nothing short of a very disastrous reverse could bring those prices back.

NOT FOR BEST FARM

In the State.

"I saw so much in the papers about the wonderful cures effected by Pyramid Pile Cure, I determined to give it a trial. I bought from my druggist one fifty-cent box and used it as directed, and by the time I had used the last 'Pyramid' I was entirely cured; in four days after I began to use the 'pyramids' all inflammation was gone. I was perfectly easy all the time, the excessive discharge stopped at once, and stools became easy and gentle.

"I was unable to get my own firewood for four months, and half the time when I could walk I had to walk half bent. I used many pile remedies, salves and ointments, all to no effect until I used one fifty-cent box of Pyramid Pile Cure and was cured.

"I would not be afflicted with piles as I was for four months ago for the best farm in the state of Arkansas. I can give proof and reference of the wonderful cure to all who are afflicted as I was. Please publish my letter that I may advise the afflicted." W. E. Wallis, Pigeon, Ark., Box 26.

The experience of Mr. Wallis is that of thousands of others who suffer for years with the most painful form of hemorrhoids, or piles, and after trying everything they hear of, give up all hope of a cure and look for temporary relief only. To all such a little book published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., brings glad tidings, as it tells all about the cause and cure of piles, and is sent free for the asking.

MANTELLI INTERESTING CAREER

Something About the Rise of the Great Italian Songstress.

The career of Eugenia Mantelli, who appears with her company at the Myers Grand tonight, is the most famous as well as the most popular of the living sopranos, but she can still command both roles admirably. At sixteen she made the grand tour of Italy, singing in Milan, Rome, Naples, Venice, and her success was immediate and spontaneous. Now was her career fixed, and next we see her at Lisbon, as the leading soprano of the San Carlo theatre.

She is still a young woman and was born in Milan of parents who were themselves great musicians; her father, Prof. Emilio Mantelli, is a noted teacher and the author of a celebrated and widely used method for the piano—her mother is a distinguished pianist. Under their fond lulage her progress in music, the piano and the voice. She won the prize in both concours. When only fourteen she made her debut in opera, singing the part in "Les Huguenots," and already her full contralto notes won admiration in the pretty song, "Nolite Signores."

But Eugenia was not content to be a contralto—her voice was of great range and she easily raised it to mezzo soprano, but she can still command both roles admirably.

At sixteen she made the grand tour of Italy, singing in Milan, Rome, Naples, Venice, and her success was immediate and spontaneous. Now was her career fixed, and next we see her at Lisbon, as the leading soprano of the San Carlo theatre.

DOES MINING PAY?

FORTUNES MADE FROM SMALL INVESTMENTS.

$100 Will Make $1000

Great Western Treasury Stock Offered at 10c Per Share—Will Soon Be Off the Market.

One often hears the statement, "What is the use of buying a thousand shares in a big company? It doesn't amount to anything."

Here is what a few shares in good mines have done for the poor man. Take at this time when a company like the Great Western is selling its treasury shares to meet the current expenses, until they reach a producing basis. It is no trouble at all to look over the field of active mining operations and enumerate hundreds of companies that to own 1000 shares of their stock could earn an income of no small amount.

In 1892 the Independence mine in Cripple Creek, Colo. was offered for sale at $100,000. It was sold in 1898 for $10,000,000. In 1892 Morris Yenzel of Moscow, Idaho, a merchant tailor, received in payment for a suit of clothes 5000 shares of Le Roi mining stock. In 1897 he is said to have received for the same $8.00 per share and accrued dividends amounted to $60,000.00.

Granite Mountain Mining Company stock sold originally for 10 cents per share. It went to $65.00 per share, and it has paid $12,000,000 in dividends.

The Anaconda Mine has paid in dividends $19,855,000. It is said it was first sold for $15,000.

The buying of treasury shares when they are being sold at a discount by a good, reliable company owning a promising property, is both profitable and legitimate.

Mrs. F. P. Chase of Bangor, Maine, a few years ago purchased 100 shares of United Verde stock for $100.00, for which she has recently refused an offer from Senator Clark of $20,000. The stock yields her $150.00 per month or $1,800.00 a year in dividends.

The Alaska Treadwell pays $1,500 annually on each one thousand shares from ore averaging $3.50 per ton. The Homestake of South Dakota returns an income of $8,000.00 on every thousand shares of stock. The ore averages less than $1.00 per ton.

WHAT WILL 1000 SHARES IN THE GREAT WESTERN DO? TIME WILL TELL.

Here I repeat again that the Great Western Gold Co., of California is located in the very heart of Shasta County, the famous copper belt of California. It is situated a city of itself of more than four buildings, which help to complete this gigantic plant, a smelter capable of treating 175 tons of ore daily has been erected.

Over 1,100 acres of mineral land in one group. (The afterthought) with copper, gold and silver ore ranging in value from $30 to $500 per ton, and enough ore in sight to keep the present smelter in operation for ten years, and just as soon as the company pay the first 5 per cent on par value, ($100), in other words, fifty per cent on your investment, then the smelter will be increased to double capacity, and it is the intention of the company to keep on increasing up to 1000 tons daily.

There is one double track tunnel over 1400 feet deep. This is 400 feet below the surface, and upraise has been made to the surface, whereby all the ore above in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd levels can be dropped down to the 4th level, or to the large tunnel below into cars, then with small engine drawn one mile to the smelter.

When this smelter starts it will bank No. 3 in Shasta County's copper belt. But in a very short time none will excel it in the state. We have the ore in abundance.

Very little more of the stock in the Great Western will be sold, only enough to pay current expenses. The last carloads of machinery are arriving to complete and equip the plant in full. Stock is being taken up very fast by its present stockholders at the low price of 10c per share. If it is worth anything at all it is worth 50c per share.

Bankers, Lawyers, Merchants, Farmers, yes prominent men and women of the city of Janesville are buying Great Western stock. Invest your money, buy 100, 500, 1000, yes 5,000 shares at 10c per share. It will soon be off the market, don't miss it.

I consider this the opportunity of a life time. It is claimed that an opportunity for wealth comes to every man, some grasp it quickly and grow rich, others are slow to reason and think that the world is dishonest and they let every opportunity pass, never to return again. I believe that in the Great Western mines lays the opportunity of many men and women today struggling to gain a foothold in finance that will benefit your conditions in life.

Just at this writing I have received a letter from T. S. Henderson, president of the Great Western, at St. Louis, Mo., as follows:

"We received a letter from one of our stockholders at Evanston, Wyoming, under date of Nov. 22nd, and he says that he saw a Great Western engine go through there at noon on that date loaded on a flat car on its journey to the mines. It should arrive there not later than Monday, Nov. 28.

Write me for the last souvenir letter explaining all about Great Western.

MINERAL OILS.

Exports of mineral oils from the United States promises to exceed in value 75 million dollars in the calendar year 1904. Ten months' figures just presented by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics show a total value of mineral oil exported at 66 million dollars, speaking in round terms, which is a larger total in value than in the corresponding months of any preceding year, though in quantity the total is less than that of the corresponding months of 1901 or 1902. In five of the ten months of the present year for which figures are now available, the value of mineral oil exported has exceeded 7 million dollars per month, while prior to December, 1903, the value of mineral oil exports seldom, if ever, reached so much as 7 million dollars in any month.

Should the value of the exports of November and December run as high as that of the months of September and October the total exportation of mineral oil for the year would reach 80 million dollars, against 72 millions in the fiscal year 1904, and will exceed by 4 million dollars the record of any earlier year.

The total quantity of mineral oil exported in the ten months ending with October, 1904, is 823 million gallons, against 872 millions in the corresponding months of 1902 and 874 millions in the corresponding months of 1901; but the value exported is 10 million dollars in excess of that for the corresponding period of 1901.

Should the present rate of exportation continue during the remainder of the calendar year the total quantity exported during the calendar year would exceed one billion gallons and the value exceed 80 millions of dollars, or an average of about 8 cents per gallon for the total exportation. Of the 823 million gallons exported in the ten months ending with October, 629 millions was illuminating oil, 81 millions crude oil, 69 millions lubricating and paraffin, 17 millions naphthas, and 26 millions residual. Of the 629 million gallons of illuminating oil exported during the ten months, 267 millions, or more than one-half was shipped from the port of New York, 213 millions from Philadelphia, 30 millions from Baltimore, and 18 millions from Galveston. The exportation of mineral oil from Galveston is of recent development, the total number of gallons exported in the ten months of 1903 having been less than 3 million gallons and over 18 millions in the corresponding ten months of the present year.

In distribution, a much larger share of the mineral oils exported goes to Europe than is generally recognized in view of the frequent statement that mineral oils form so large a share in exports from the United States to the Orient. Of the 700 million gallons of refined mineral oil exported in 1903, 150 millions, speaking in round terms, went to the United Kingdom alone, 116 millions to Netherlands, and 11 millions to Germany; while the total to all Europe amounted to 500 million gallons, leaving but 200 millions for distribution to all other parts of the world. Of this total less than 100 millions went to Asia, 43 millions to South America, 26 millions to North America, 25 millions to Oceania, and about 14 millions to Africa.

Comparing exports with production it may be added that the remarkable growth in exportation has been fully justified by production in the United States, which has grown from 21 million gallons in 1860 to 220 millions in 1870, 1,104 millions in 1880, 1,924 millions in 1890, 2,061 millions in 1900, and 4,219 millions in 1903, according to the preliminary figures of the Geological survey.

CURRENCY.

The recent announcement of a proposed new form of currency for Mexico lends especial interest to some figures just compiled by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics regarding the commerce between the United States and Mexico. These figures show that the exports from the United States to Mexico have grown from 15 million dollars in 1890 to 46 million dollars in 1904, speaking in round terms; and that the imports into the United States from Mexico have grown from 23 million dollars in 1890 to 44 millions in 1904. Thus our exports to Mexico in 1904 were three and one-half times as great as in 1890, and our imports from Mexico practically twice as great as in that year.

An even more interesting fact is found in a comparison of the figures of Mexican trade with the United States with the total trade of Mexico. These show that of the imports into Mexico in the latest year for which information is available, the United States supplied 59 per cent of the total imports, and that of the exports from Mexico 76 per cent was sent to the United States. Mexico takes from the United States a larger share of her total imports than any other country in the world except Canada, which takes 60 per cent of her imports from the United States; and Mexico sends to the United States also a larger share of her exports than any other country in the world with the exception of Cuba, of whose exports during the fiscal year 1904, 80.6 per cent went to the United States, as against the 76 per cent of the total exports of Mexico sent to this country. While figures showing the percentage of Mexican imports supplied by the United States and the percentage of Mexico's exports sent to the United States are not available for earlier years, it is well-known that the United States has rapidly increased the share which she supplies of the imports and the share which she takes of the exports from Mexico. This increase has been especially marked since the construction of railroads entering Mexico from the United States. Prior to the construction of railroads between the United States and Mexico the share of Mexico's imports supplied by the United States ranged from 20 to 30 per cent, against the 59 per cent at the present time, as above noted; while the share of Mexico's exports sent to the United States was about in the same proportion. The effect of direct rail communication between the United States and Mexico is also illustrated by the fact that the Central American States, which can only be reached by water, as was the case with Mexico prior to the construction of railroads connecting the two countries, now take 43 per cent of their imports from the United States as against the 59 per cent which Mexico takes of her imports from us.

Earlier figures of the commerce between the United States and Mexico are of course available, but are somewhat misleading during the earlier period of the operations of the railway, since no law existed prior to 1892 by which statements of merchandise passing out of the United States by rail destined for Mexico were required.

Now that football is over the students at the university can study until base ball and crew work begins. The present college year is about as short a term of schooling as the old time district school was back east.

St. Louis is resting. Roosevelt the strenuous has gone back to Washington.

A few days more and the St. Louis Exposition will be a thing of the past. Hurrah for irrigation! Three crops a year if the government will pay millions to make it a go.

The Panama canal really begins to assume shape. Three engineers have been engaged for the big steam shovels already.

Russia has the forlorn hope that Port Arthur will fall soon. Or that the Baltic fleet will arrive in time to be captured when it does.

The Japanese still continue to whip the Russians every day, and still they have not won the war yet.

Russia fills its people with pipe dreams worthy of an oriental each day. Glittering prospects of a great victory while all reports point to decisive defeats.

Nan Patterson ate her Thanksgiving dinner in the Tombs and read her daily list of offers of marriage over again. Nan is a fat jolly now and is being potted and humored by hundreds of feeble minded people who crave notoriety.

Even Chicago police turn to Janesville as a suspicious place when they need a suspect. Now they are after Hugg who is said to have committed a crime here. Why last winter alderman Connell went on record throughout the country as being in favor of a "hug on the school steps."

Beloit crows over its factory payroll and its votes, but it fails to pay the taxes of a genuine city. Where is the law on this subject.

The Evansville Review passes judgment on the Chicago murder in an off-hand manner and settles questions which are bothering the Chicago astute police force.

The Badger, a weekly paper at Evansville fails to learn that the election is over. It still carries the presidential and state tickets at the end of their editorial column. Perhaps they do not know that their other candidate Richmond was defeated by Whitehead yet.

That man who dressed as a woman and was captured up the river by the sheriff, came here from Beloit. After living in the line city for several years his brain was turned and he believed he was a woman. No reflections on Beloit whatever.

The Madison council recently held a council meeting at which a call of the house brought out a search of the Elk's club house and two aldermen were found hiding in the coal bin.

Bryan has not yet learned that the democratic party was killed last election day and is trying to bring the poor worn out beast back to life.

Chicago needs no advertisements to proclaim its greatness. Read the daily papers and then comment on the crimes.

Janesville may lose a first class factory through the over zealousness of a newspaper correspondent who thinks more of the dollars and cents than he does of the city.

If everyone started out to boom Janesville and help build up the city as far as they are able, Janesville would soon become the leading industrial center of the state. Boast, not knock, should be a motto.

How about that monthly market to help the merchants along. This is a proposition that will bear considering.

The package freight and express clause asked for by the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville Interurban should be most seriously considered by the aldermanic fathers before they reject it.

The deer season is almost over. Now for the "deer" stories at home.

YELLOW JOURNALISM.

There are some classes of news which injure not only the feelings, but the reputation of innocent people that appear from time to time in the city papers and are copied all over the country promiscuously. These stories are due to the love for the sensational and do untold wrong to the innocent parties dragged into notoriety for trivial acts. Unfortunately there is no redress for such yellow journal stories and the fair name of a man or woman is blasted for the cause of publicity and a scoop on a contemporary.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Journal: All hail the buckwheat cake and trimmings! May they live as long as good deeds and spread naught but joy down the ages.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Isaac Stephenson of Marinette was invited to meet the La Follette state central committee this week. There was a deficit of $7,000 in the campaign fund.

Waupun Leader: The decennial census of the state of Wisconsin will be taken next year under the direction of Secretary of State House. The county clerks will have to copy the reports from the towns, villages and cities of the county and will receive $3.25 for each thousand names. City and town clerks will receive 1 1/2 cents for every name.

Journal of Health: People are more likely to catch cold in the back than they are generally aware of, and if neglected may prove a serious matter. The back, especially between the shoulders, should always be kept well-covered, and never lean with your back against anything that is cold. Never sit with the back in a draft draught, and when warming by the fire do not continue to keep the back exposed to the heat after it has become comfortably warm. To do this is debilitating.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: From the tone of recent Washington dispatches it would seem that H. A. Taylor, "Uncle Hal" is feeling very uncomfortable about the reports to the effect that he intends to resign. A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, in fact, declares that he was "greatly irritated," and adds: "Mr. Taylor has authorized no one to state that he intends to resign, and declares that he has no intention of so doing." All of which is doubtless true.

El Paso, (Texas) Herald: If the Rev. Mr. Gammon's papa and mama had had the good taste to wear another name, it would have added largely to the gentleman's assets as a professional alarmist out in China. Somehow it is difficult to worry seriously over reports of Boxer uprisings and miscellaneous troubles when they come from a man named "Gammon." This is no doubt doing him an injustice, for apparently he is as worthy as man as ever wore a black bombazine uniform and mislabeled among the heathen, but it is, as before remarked, the fault of his papa and mama mostly.

Superior Telegram: A rich bachelor in Paris advertised for a cook, and by the multitude of employment seekers who immediately assembled in front of his house would have thought he had advertised in the Evening Telegram. But the unhappy part of the affair was that as soon as he made his selection the balance of the crowd at once precipitated a riot. The supply of labor in Paris appears to be largely in excess of the demand.

Exchange: In fact Mexico is attending strictly to her own business, and is advancing and progressing in a manner that promises to land her in time in the ranks of the foremost nations. But while the process of development is going on there is no intention or desire to put on airs by trying to sport a large and noisy navy, or a fleet which she could not really use, unless she went out of her way to pick a quarrel with some one, not to tell the truth one is compelled to admit that in following out this course it is a mark of great credit to the leaders of that nation, and especially to the aged president who has been to Mexico even more than Washington was to this nation.

The menu was excellent and received many compliments from those who were seated at the festive board. JAP ARTILLERY IS SUCCEEDING

IS KEYSTONE TO THE CITADEL

Experts Estimate That 90 Per Cent of the Work of Invasion Will Be Completed When the Position is Taken.

Tokio, Nov. 29, 11 a. m.—It is reported that the attack against 203 Meter Hill by Japanese light artillery is succeeding. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the work of the complete occupation of Port Arthur will be finished with this height in the possession of the Japanese. No part of the harbor of Port Arthur will then be concealed from the Japanese.

REVERSES FOR JAPS.

London News Indicates that Mikado's Armies Have Been Worst.

London, Nov. 29, 4 a. m.—With the Japanese repulsed in their latest general onslaught on Port Arthur under General Nogi, they have met with further reverses in their attempt to turn the Russian flank on the Shakhe river, according to late advices from Mukden.

The attempt, balked as it was, has been renewed, however, and General Kouroupatkin cables St. Petersburg that fighting was still raging yesterday. Everything points to the belief that the battle is still in progress.

The scene of the fighting has been at Tsinkhetchen, which is located near Da Pass on the front of the Russian left flank, or east from the city of Mukden.

Fight Rages Three Days.

The attack was commenced on Nov. 27, raged three days, was then temporarily abandoned, to be resumed again at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, according to Kouroupatkin's cablegram.

The offensive movement on the part of the Japanese began on Nov. 24 at Tsinkhetchen seems to have been checked by the Russians.

A dispatch dated "with the Russian forces at Shengking" says that the attack on General Rennenkampf's position (the Russian left) begun on the 24th resulted in three days' fighting at Tsinkhetchen.

This dispatch was dated yesterday, and adds: "Though the Japanese have been repulsed, the fighting still continues. The Japanese have succeeded in placing several big siege guns in position with which they will be able to seriously harass the Russians."

Location of Jap Army.

This dispatch also gives interesting information as to the location of the Japanese army along the Shakhe, and its make-up. This portion of it follows:

"One brigade of infantry and five regiments of cavalry, with a second line of one brigade between Bandioza and the Hun river; two divisions of infantry between Band'za and Linsingpu; one division between Linsingpu and Ladiaouza; one division between Ladiaouza and Chinsandza; one division between Chinsandza and Kosangau; one brigade between Kosangau and Summuga, with a second line consisting of one brigade and two divisions; one division at Bopuzza; one brigade occupying the country southwest of Bopuzza as far as Chingzil, with one brigade of infantry and of cavalry in the second line. Behind the main army are one brigade of infantry stationed at Laoyang, one at Yental, and one at Tsinkhetchen."

Some Doubt Importance.

Other dispatches conflict as to the size and importance of the Japanese movement against the Russian left. These dispatches assert that the fighting is nothing more than skirmishes with the advance guard. A Mukden dispatch says that the Japanese lost 100 men in the Russian repulse of this advance guard movement, and adds this:

"This advance of the Japanese against Da pass need not be considered as a big flanking movement toward the pass, which so many imagine is the route the Japanese intend to take. Both the Japanese armies are united near Mukden, and, as heretofore, are simply awaiting developments. The weather is warmer and there is less wind. The navigation of the Liao river will close in a day or two."

See Advance Ahead.

Advices from St. Petersburg state that members of the general staff regard the movements at Tsinkhetchen as preparatory to an advance toward Mukden. They believe that the Japanese are taking the offensive on the ground that they cannot afford to wait until the Russians are further reinforced. It is held in St. Petersburg that the fighting to the eastward is doubtless for the purpose of feeling out the Russian positions, preparatory to an advance in that direction, but as there are about 7,000 Russian troops southwest of Sinsintin, where fighting occurred on Nov. 26, and probably twice as many more in the mountains between Benislaputze and Sinsintin, any Japanese move from this quarter would entail serious fighting. At the same time correspondents at the front continue to scout the idea of serious fighting being imminent.

Trotting Rivals.

Lou Dillon and Major Delmar Rule Harness World—Billings Horse In Lead.

The close of the trotting season, strangely enough, has been the most important part of the light harness campaign. After a summer in which record breaking performances were as scarce as eels in a wheatfield, Lou Dillon, the great world's champion trotting mare, began a series of wonderfully fast performances without a wind shield or pacemaker.

Major Delmar began the fun by going a mile in 2:01½ at Memphis without a wind shield or pacemaker, which constituted a world's record. E. E. Smathers, then owner of the Major, thus stole a march on his old time rival, C. K. G. Billings, owner of Lou Dillon.

LOU DILLON.

"We must lower the Major's mark," said Mr. Billings to Trainer Millard Sanders, "no matter how much money we spend."

"Aye, aye, sir," replied Sanders in true sailor fashion, and less than three weeks later Lou Dillon covered a mile in Delmar's time (2:01½) at Memphis.

When the mare came on the track at Memphis that day she was worked once the reverse way of the track and then sent away at the first score. She was turned only fifty yards from the wire and given a short start, as Millard Sanders, who drove the mare, well knew that she was "short" and would not be able to go the whole distance at her best clip. She went away slowly, but gained a terrific headway before she reached the first turn and reeled off the first quarter in 0:29½. Still increasing her speed, she went on to the half and passed that mark in 0:59½. Going up the back stretch and rounding the far turn the mare had to face the wind and, although a runner picked her up at the half, she was only able to reach the three-quarter pole in 1:29½. From this point on Millard Sanders was forced to drive hard to keep the mare going. As her trainer had predicted before the trial, she was able to last to the seven-eighths pole and no farther, but under the whip she fought her way down the stretch and finished the mile, all in, in 2:01½.

But a greater triumph was still to come for the daughter of Sidney Dillon. A few days later at Memphis she went the distance in time generally agreed to be 2:01, although some watches caught her in 2:00½, and others in 2:02½.

The first quarter was reached in thirty seconds, a two minute clip. The second quarter was the fastest made during the mile, the half pole being passed in 59½ seconds. The time of the quarter was thus 20½ seconds, a 1:57 gait.

From there on to the finishing point Lou Dillon tired very perceptibly, but exhibited none of the fatigue until the three-quarter pole was reached in 1:30, the third quarter having been trotted in 30½ seconds, a 2:03 gait. She had been forced to trot against the stiff wind up the back stretch, but when she reached the final stages of the journey she faltered and staggered under the wire, while the official time displayed was 2:01, the last quarter having been covered at a 2:04 clip.

No shield of any kind was used, and only one pacemaker was brought into play. Lou Dillon, driving Carrie Nation, took up his position just before

C. K. G. BILLINGS, OWNER OF LOU DILLON, the half mile pole was reached and followed at the side during the last half mile.

Owing to the fact that Lou Dillon was not preceded by a runner, horsemen all agreed that the performance was a marvelous one, all conditions considered, but there was such a wide difference in private and official time that there have been many arguments advanced as to the correctness of the officials who held the watch.
